Information for day trippers travelling individually in Winter 2018
 (09.12.2018-04.04.2019)

The NEG train provides a direct connection from the neg station in Niebüll to the ferry pier in Dagebüll (same-day return ticket: €7.50). You can purchase your ticket for the ferry crossing (duration: ca 50 min.) to Wyk auf Föhr (return ticket: €14.00) in the train. If you are coming by car you can leave it at the island car park in Dagebüll (parking fees: €8.00/day) and also purchase your ferry ticket there. A free shuttle service will bring you directly from the car park to the pier until five minutes before the ferry's departure.

After arriving on Föhr you can use the bus to Alkersum to journey directly from the harbour to the Museum Kunst der Westküste. The museum and the museum restaurant Grethjens Gasthof are directly next to the bus stops "Alkersum Hauptstraße" and "Alkersum Nieblumweg".

The departure times of the ferries and busses are:

Of course, you can also reach the Museum Kunst der Westküste by bicycle (ca 4km from Wyk; there are several bike rental shops in Wyk) or with a taxi (one-way journey ca €12). After your visit to the museum (standard admission: €8), for which you should plan roughly two hours, the following bus and ferry connections back to Wyk and Dagebüll are available from the stops "Alkersum Hauptstraße" and "Alkersum Nieblumweg":

To round off your outing to the museum on the island of Föhr, we recommend a stroll through the North Sea resort town of Wyk, with its elegant beach promenade and numerous shops, or a visit to the Dr.-Carl-Häberlin-Friesenmuseum in Wyk. Alternatively you can also join a guided bus tour around the island or explore Föhr's natural beauty and remarkable island villages on your own – by bicycle, for example.

If you have questions, we would love to help.

We're looking forward to your visit.
